

Thank you,

To all of you out there who have found the time to send a little part of yours and some of our home towns, all the way over here to the men and women that are serving for you. We love getting a little piece of home, from you all the way back there. We are thankful for all the body gel, shaving cream (for sensitive skin), home town local and state team t-shirts (so we can root from afar). The bite size candies, coloring books, microwaveable food, darts, stuffed animals, clean sheets, hot coco, cookies, and more, have been making the time over here go by that much better for us. We have been keeping our selves on our toes on seeing all the things people back in the states are taking for granted, because it seems so easy for them to walk to the corner store or WalMart and pick anything up. Every time we receive a t-shirts and packages the moral jumps way up. The letters that are addressed to all are getting passed around and read out loud for every ones enjoyment. Which really tells us that you do care and we can't wait to come back home. The crews that are here are asking me if you could send more pictures you and your surroundings, to put a face and place with a name. How are the local sights these days, changing with the seasons? We thank our lucky stars that there are good people in this world who really do still care for us back there too.

Sincerely and truly from my heart to yours, we got your back till properly relived or the war is over.

Passing on all you send this way to the ones you love and are praying for.
