To whom it may concern;

Hi, may I just start by saying a huge thank you! I have seen many boxes from this organization that have brought excitement and smiles to all of our marines here. Not having a store, combined with limited showers and laundry - bring morale down a bit. We rely on packages for the things we want and need. As you can imagine not everyone has a good family so in some cases the things you sent made their Christmas' more exciting. I'm gonna get back to work but thank you for your organization. I'm so glad there are people in the states that can break away from their daily life and think of someone other than their self enough to give thanks. So thank you, and God Bless
