

DECEMBER 25, 2010

Dear Everyone,

Hi just wanted to say Merry Christmas to everyone even though I know that it is passed for you. Hope all had a fantastic Holiday. I was just writing you to thank you for the packages that you have sent. I have really appreciated them and wanted to let you know. Everyone really enjoyed everything that you have sent. We hope that everyone had a Merry Christmas and a Happy Holidays. It is Christmas here and very cold. We are all counting down the days until we leave to go home. Right now we are sitting inside because the area is slow today, watching Christmas movies. I really appreciate all that you do and all the things you do to help us out.

Well my name is Heather Sievers. I'm a E-4/Corporal in the Marines. I'm currently 21 years old and turning 22 in 2 days. I have 1 older brother, who just got out of the Marines, and 4 younger brothers, 1 of which is currently getting ready for a deployment. I have been out here since March 2010 and will be leaving around March 2011. The countdown until we leave has begun. I have reenlisted for another 4 years while I was out here. I enjoy what I do and can't wait to continue! I'm not married and have no boyfriend. Not trying for anything serious while I'm in the military.

Hope the weather in Texas is nice compared to here. The weather here is below freezing and the puddles of water/mud are actually beginning to freeze. I heard that the weather is only going to get colder into the month of January and February so I can't wait for that. Hope you had a great holiday with the family/significant other. Once again, we appreciate all that you do and all the assist you provide to the military deployed.

Have a Great New Year

CPL Sievers, Heather
