To All Involved,

On Christmas eve I received a package from your organization. Talk about perfect timing. I want to personally thank everyone in your group for thier time and effort to send such a caring package. Granted we live in the age where we have much better communication with our families than years ago, but it is always uplifting to receive a package filled with things that we want or need. Your organization and the people that make it up need to be applauded and recognized for your selfless service.

Thank You
